STILL CELEBRATING.

Another Great Parade in New York.

A Civic Demonstration Rivaling th Military Pageant. Graphic Portrayal of Historic Scenes sident Harrison Reviews th Monster Procession and Leaves for Washington - Closing Centennial Scenes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, May 1.—[By the Associated Press.] The third day of the great Washington centennial celebration broke clear and cool. The chief and almost only notable feature of the day was the great civic and industrial parade, which started that the third of the 10 colors of Elitha annual and shortly after 10 o'clock at Fifth avenue and Fifty-seventh street, and marched in reverse order over the route of yesterday's parade, down Fifth avenue to Seventeenth street, to and around Union Square, by Fourteenth street to Fifth avenue, to Washington Square, by Warnel Place to Route ington Square by Waverly Place, to Broadway, and down that thoroughfare to Pine way, and down that thoroughfare to Pine street.

President Harrison, in a barouche drawn by five horses, headed by a squad of mounted police, accompanied by Vice-President Morton, drove up to the Madison Square reviewing stand at 10:10 o'clock.

Ex-Presidents Hayes and Cleveland, Secretaries Proctor, Tracy. Windom and Rusk, Gen. Sherman and Russell Harrison had previously arrived.

Others on the stand were Gen. J. M. Vernum, Gov. Burleigh of Maine and staff, Brig.-Gen. J. M. Sprague, Brig.-Gen. John Harper, Fred Douglass, who received a cheer as he entered the stand, and Senator Gorman of Maryland.

Mayor Grant, with a body of aides, who had been waiting at Twenty-fifth street, them stepped forward and presented the President with an address inclosed in a cylinder of repousse silver. The Mayor then took his place on the stand beatle the President and the big parade began to pass by.

President and the big parace began to pass by.

THE PARADE.

First came Gen. Butterfield, Chief Marshal, and staff.

The first tableau, "Declaration of Independence," was intended to represent the reading of the declaration by John Nixon in the State House yard, July 8, 1776. This float was surrounded by an escort of 100 members of the Society of Veterans of the regular army and navy.

The next float represented "Washington and His Generals, Mounted." Washington as Commander-in-Chief occupies the center of the line, Raj, Gens. Ward, Priman, Philip Schmyler and Charles Lee of either side. Closely fellowing are nine uniform.

Then came 3500 school children escorting the tableau of "Washington at Valley Forge." It represents the winter quarters at Valley Forge, and the meeting of Gen. Washington with Baron Steuben and the sick and wounded soldiers.

The Exempt Firemen's Association of this city to the number of 200 came next.

DISCOURTEGUE AND ASSOCIATION OF THE PROPERTY OF TH

DISCOURTEOUS TAMMANT BRAVES.

After them came the Tammiany Hall braves. A genuine Indian squaw and two copper-colored braves, with color more than skin deep, accompanied them. Some little excitement was caused by some of the Tammany braves refusing or neglecting to salute the President as they passed by. At first shouts of "Hats off?" were heard, but when it was seen that this had no effect, the balance of the files were loudly hissed, except in a few instances where a proper sulte was made. It is not thought the Tammanyites were intentionally disrespectful, but that they did not know they were expected to salute.

GEBRANS MAKE A FINE SHOWING. DISCOURTEOUS TANMANY BRAVES.

GERMANS MAKE A FINE SHOWING. The Germans had a notable display. First came the German-American Sharp-shooters to the number of over 3000, then singing societies. A feature of this part of the parade, however, was the great number of tableaux and floats, nearly all the important historical events and progress of the last century in arts and sciences being represented. Almost every trade known to man has representatives among or the last century in are and sciences often represented. Almost every trade known to man has representatives among the German population, and at least a few artisans from each were in line. There were also foats showing Germany's favorite sports, allegories of "Bacchus," "King Carnival," "Arlon," "Melopomae," "Columbia" and Germania"—in all 60 floats. lumbia" and Germania"—in all 60 floats.
Several temperance societies and Knights of Pythias preceded the float, "Resignation

HISTORIC TABLEAUX.

Then followed a series of tableaux representing various States, as follows: New York, boat-load of Dutch sailors and voyagers; Massachusetts, anchoring of the Mayflower; Delaware, Christianizing, sayages; Maryland, Lord Battimore and Georgia, Calvert; Pennsylvania, the Penn treaty; Georgia, last pre-Revolutionary colonia settlement.

Georgia, last pre-kevolutionary colonial settlement.

After these came the Caledonian Club of New York and the Seventy-ninth Highland Regiment of Veterans. The Swiss Centennial Committee, with Swiss tableaux, were escorted by Centennial Sharpshooters.

Then came the firemen's division. Chief samong these were 600 members of the New York Volunteer Firemen. There were 4000 men in this division.

OTHER FEATURES.

Next came the Italian division. The Italian Military Association turned out 18 companies, and civic societies as many more. One of their floats was a large boat, on which were represented "Columbus and Washington, Discoverer and Father." The second float represented Italy and America sitting among flowers. The Scandinavian-American Society also made a good showing. Next came the Hibernians, numbering Next came the Hibernians, numbering 10,000, some uniformed, some not. An elaborate float, "The World Moves On," added another feature to the column. After a number of trades organizations passed the united Polish societies came along, one of their floats showing how paper boxes are made.

Then came the Colored Centennial Committee with a George Washington coach drawn by four horses.

After the colored delegation came the regular Irish section of the parade. This included nearly all the Irish-American societies of New York, the Papal Veterans, 8000 members of Society of the Holy Name, 6000 more of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, 4000 of the Providential Council, tem perance societies and a dozen Catholic benev

Other displays in line included a mam-moth globe representing the New York World, Manhattan Ship-joiners' Associa-tion with a mamoth model of a ship. Ho-boken fire department with their antiquated hook and ladder.

INCIDENTS OF THE PARADE.

The address presented to the President was from the civic, commercial, industrial and educational bodies of the city, in which they renew allegiance to the Government and congratulate the President on the completion of the Nation's first hundred years. The crowds along the line of march were as large as yesterday, but were different in appearance. Yesterday the soldiers were marching and the observers were officant. Today the visiting military is scattered among the lookers and the citizens are doing the waiting.

It is estimated up to that time that 00,000 men had passed before him.

After a light lunch at Mr. Morton's residence, President Harrison was driven to the New Jersey shore, where he started for Washington at 5 o'clock.

The ladies of President Harrison's family did not return to Washington with him tals afternoon. This evenium Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee were entertained at dinner by Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, and nomorew Mrs. McKee will go to Mrs. S. B. Elkin's to remain several days.

The Presidential party that went to Washington consisted of President Harrison, Secretary Windom, wife and two daughters, Secretary Proctor, Col. Barr, Col. John M. Wilson, Waiker Blaine, Private Secretary Haiford, Secretary Tracy, Postmaster-General Wansmaker, Secretary Rusk and wife and two children. rostmaster-General Wanamaker, Secretary Trai Rusk and wife and two children.

The scene at the dismissal of the parade at Canal street was one of the wildest concusion, and at one time it looked as if a panic might ensue. When the head of the parade arrived the excitement began. Gen. Butterfield's staff were mounted on spirited horses, and many of them did not know how to ride. The animals became resiless and plunged around violently. The crush of the crowd was simply terrible. The police had their hands full. Considerable confusion also resulted from the failure of the riders to obey the orders of the chief marshal. The bands in some cases wandered to the wrong part of the parade. In passing the finish each division saluted the chief marshal at Broadway and Canal street.

AN ACCIDENT—ALMOST A PANIC.
There were a number of accidents. The ableaux on three of the high floats were caught in wires and torn. Float No. 10, caught in wires and torn. Float No. 10, a representation of an emigrant ship with deck steerage and smokestack, while turning into Canal street was wrecked by a car wheel on the right side of the great truck being wrenched off by a car track. The upper part of the structure around the smokestack was occupied by half a dozen young girls in cosumes, while below were several women, the body of the car being filled with a few other women and a number of quaintiy attired men with false beards. With the loss of the wheel the frail structure toppied over and mapped and cracked, while women and children

GEN. FRANKLIN PRESENTED.

PARIS, May 1.—President Carnot today gave an audience to United States Minister McLane, who presented Gen.

Franklin, commissioner of the United States to the Paris exposition. Not Very Select.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, May 1.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) The direct examination of Parnell was concluded at today's session of the Parnell Commission. He declared that tutionally. Parnell on cross-examination denied that the Irish World ever collected moneys for the Parliamentary party. The Irish World had been hostile to himself and the Parlia-nad been nostite to hisser and the Faria-mentary party since 1833.

Atty.-Gen. Webster here produced ex-tracts from the Irish World praising Par-nell's action in Parliament after 1882. Sir Charles Russell, council for the Parnellites, put in extracts adverse to Parnell.

Charles Russell, council for the Parnellites, put in extracts adverse to Parnell.

The cross-examination was then continued. Parnell admitted knowing Mooney, otherwise known as "Transatlante." Mooney wrote a violent article, still witness would not object to receiving Mooney's tributes to assist the party if he did not publish articles advocating murder. Witness had held no communication with Patrick Ford since 1881.

Parnell emphatically denied that his Irish schemes ever included a coalition with Fenians in order to expel landiords from Ireland. He certainly aimed to destroy landlordism, but not to drive individuais from the country, and he never had any idea of resorting to illegal means. He did not recollect meeting Davitt and John O'Leary in 1878, and discussing with then as possible alliance between the Nationalists and Fenians. He had a notion that the national fund in America and the skirmishing fund were identical.

Atty-Gen. Webster here read a violent manifesto signed by John Devoy and others, and issued at Dublin.

Parnell declared that he never heard of it before. He had met Devoy, Breglin, Finerty and Alexander Sullivan and a number of the "physical force" men. He said he would trankly avow that he felt it was no part of his duty to exclude arry one from the league on account of their antecedents. He wanted to include in it all Irishmen, trusting that every section would accept the new to a positivational form of agitation. He had aimed at asking the "brysical force" men. wanted to include in it all Irishmen, trusting that every section would accept the new constitutional form of agitation. He had aimed at asking the "physical force" men to abandon their movement and to accept his. To shut the constitutional door in their face, because they did not immediately agrae, would have been very foolish.

He did not recollect making a speech at Lynn, Mass, in which it was alleged he had said that when England was beaten to her knees, the time would have come to realize the idea of the Nationalists. He admitted that if he had said those words he must have been thinking of methods of warfare in the event of constitutional agitation failing. At Troy somebody offered him $5 for bread and $20 for lead. He did not object to the offer, because he thought he offer only meant $5 for charitable work and $90 for league work.

By Tylegreph to The Times.

BERLIN, May 1.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] It is stated that the liberation of Mailetoa, the deposed King of Samoa, has been voluntarily announced to the Samoan conference. It is supposed that this action on the part of Germany is a prejude to the rejustatement of Mailetos.

this action on the part of Germany is a pre-lude to the rejustatement of Malletos.

The sub-committee of the Samoan confer-ence, consisting of Delegates Kranel, Bates and Scott, has prepared a report on the land question in Samoa. It is stated that the sub-committee has under consideration a plan for the future government of Samoa made restrict rules with a tribunal to adjuunder native rules, with a tribunal to adju under native rules, with a tribunal to adjudicate the question of land tenure. It is considered probable that the conference will decide to appoint a triumvirate which will act as counsel to the native sovereign and have general supervision of Samoan affairs.

LONDON, May 1.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times this evening, referring to the conference, says: "On the whole, England's attitude is not quite clear. There is nothing to show that the British Government leans toward Germany."

At this point the reading was interrupted by Mr. Lindley, who asked to be excused, saying that he had business that demanded his attention. He stated that he wished to be recorded as voting aye on the resolutions submitted by himself and Mr. Knox at the previous meeting, in case they were reached. Mayor Hazard reminded him of the Davis matter, and stated that he first wanted to see the vote of the commissioners on Davis's application before he voted for any laudatory resolutions.

They had done the work, and were entitled to their pay, as they were the victims of a mistake for which he was officially responsible, although not personally to blame.

Mr. Knox then moved that the men put in their claims, and that the commission approve the same, and ask that the Council pay them. The motion was adopted unanimously, and the Chief instructed to appear before the Finance Committee and explain the matter.

A scene not down in the programme occurred before court began. Miss Dykes was sitting by her counsel, G. Wiley Wells, and asked him if she could not speak to George Van Every about her baby, which she claims was taken away from her at Kansas City. Mr. Wells emphatically replied in the negative, and exacted a promise from her that she would remain quiet. He had scarcely turned around, however, when Miss Dykes sprang to her feet and burst into a fit of passionate weeping. She took a step or two toward Van Every, who sat at the table uneasily moving in his chair. The young woman stretched out her arms in an imploring manner and sobbed out hysterically: "Oh, George, do give me my baby. Tell me where baby is. Pleaseftell me where my baby is."

Van Every half rose from his seat, but Mr. Williams pushed him back and the sobbing woman was led from the courtroom into Judge Wade's chambers, where it was some time before she was quieted. Those who were in the courtroom were very much affected by the little incident. Miss Dykes thereafter restrained herself, but the look with which she steadily regarded Van Every during the day must have pierced his conscience, if he has wronged her.

A MOTHER'S STATEMENT. A scene not down in the programme force, everything else being equal, be made from members of the old force who were on duty when the commission went into office. He said that a number of good men had been removed, and it was only right that they should have a change as they were fore better than new men. After dis-cussion, this motion prevailed, it be-ing understood that the men who had been relieved were to receive the first places, with the exception of Davis, whose case would be considered when his name came up.

Mr. Knox then called up his gambling resolution, but Mayor Hazard objected to its consideration until the objected to its consideration until the action of the board could be seen on the Davis matter. He said there was no question as to Davis's guilt. The affidavits were before the board that when he was Chief of Police he had offered hush money to persons to have the charges against him suppressed, and when this failed he resigned. He wanted a vote taken on the name first, and then he was ready to vote on the resolutions. He did not want to vote for resolutions against boodle and gambling, and then to vote for a man who, as Chief of Police, offered to pay $300 to have charges against him suppressed. The city, he thought, was hard up for police material, if this was necessary, and if we were so weak that men of that sort must be taken, then let us say so in our resolutions.

The proceedings began with the reading by Judge Guthrie of the depomen of that sort must be taken, then let us say so in our resolutions.

Mr. Dexter said he was independent of all factions, and wanted only honest men. If any man had ever been caught knocking down or receiving boodle he thought he should be removed. He knew nothing about the charges against Davis, but if he was guilty he should be removed. He believed in fairness, and he thought he should have a chance for his life. sition of Miss Dyke's mother, who lives at Galloway, Greene county, Mo. He came, as he told her, to secure her daughter in wearings and hereafth her Mayor Hazard said he did not want any investigation. The affidavits were here, and any one could see them. Mr. Knox thought Davis should have a trial, and should be confronted with his accusers. He knew nothing about the charges, and he would like to hear both sides of the affair. Mr. Hazard objected to any time being wasted in an investigation. Davis had had a chance, and resigned rather than face the charges, and he was not therefore entitled to any further consideration. The debate continued at considerable length, but Mr. Hazard declined to recede from his position, when Mr. Dexter moved that was pointed, which carried unanimously.

Mr. Knox then called up his gambling resolution, and moved its adoption. He explained that he mean no reflection on the board or Chief, but only wanted to make the position of the board emphatic and plain. Mr. Bilderrain seconded the motion, and it was unanimously adopted, as follows:

THE DEFENDANT'S FINANCES. E. J. Vawter of Santa Monica was put on the stand, and testified that in January Van Every was a stockholder and director in the First National Bank of Santa Monica, of which he is ISANK OF SANTA MONICA, OF Which he is cashier; that Van Every had $5000 stock in the bank at that time, the cap-ntal stock of the bank being $50,000. T. A. Lewis of Santa Monica testi-fied that he lived at Santa Monica, and had been in several real-estate transactions with him. They are owners with equal interest in 13 lots in the Thomas tract, worth $1000 each; 4 lots in Mills & Wicks's addition, worth $1500 each, and two lots in Shafer & Lantermann's addition, worth $1800 each. The defendant has some property in Santa Monica, but he did not know how much.

GEO. S. VAN EVERY DENIES. The prosecution rested at this point and the defense began its case by putting the defendant on the stand. His examination was very short. He said:
"I live at Santa Monica, and came to California in 1884 to make it my home. I came in June of that year. It has been my home since then. I deposited money in the First National Bank in this city when I came. I have Bank in this city when I came. I have been here every year since. I have lived in Santa Monica two years. Upon being questioned as to the circumstances of the signing of the paper, the witness stated that it was in his office. Miss Dykes claimed that his brother owed her. She was told that he was in Florida. Two hundred dollars was offered her in full settlement, and she took it. She read the paper. The Judge told her she need not sign it, and he explained it to her. She talked about George a good deal. She was looking at and reading it some little time. After she signed it Judge Meryman gave her a kind talk, and advised her to start a millinery business. The witness denied that Van Every was in Kansas City at the time, and did not remember telegraphing to bim.

There was an attempt to prove by the witness that Miss Dykes associated with bad people, but no such evidence was allowed, on the ground that such pleadings had not been set up in the answer.

The witness said he had no unkindly stated that he first wanted to see the voted for any tote of the commissioners on Davis's application before he voted for any laudatory resolutions.

Mr. Lindley wanted this to go over, but Mr. Hazard objected, saying that should be settled first.

ORANGE COUNTY.

REASONS ADVANCED FOR ITS CREATION.

The Question of Expense - Tables and Estimates - Assessments -Taxation - General Reasons Favor of County Division.

SANTA ANA, April 30 .- [To the Editor Los Angeles Times.] The question before the people of the southern part of Los Angeles county is whether county division shall prevail. It is a problem of more than ordinary impor It involves the underlying principles of good government, wise administration and the still deeper question whether a people is capable of self-government. It is a question that should be approached with a calm and dispassionate discretion, a patient hearing and an unselfish motive. The thought that is uppermost in the minds of the people is, Will the organization new county increase the taxation? And, in times like these, in which there is a depression in monetary affairs, it becomes almost the all-absorbing question. Let us approach this phase of the subject and examine into the probable expense.

The cost of the organization of the new county and the administration of new county and the administration of its government may be classed under. three heads: First, State tax and sala-ries of officers, fixed by State law, with estimated cost of assistants; second, estimates formed from last year's rec-ords of Los Angeles county; third, cal-culations by our best experts as to the cost of organization.

FIRST ITEM. The first item, expenses fixed by law, with estimated cost of assistants: Assessor
Deputy Assessors,
District Attorney.
Uperintendent of Schools.....

Estimated expenses from last year's records of Los Angeles county: stables Roads and Bridges
Postage
Medical services.
Cartage and burying dead.
Printing and advertising.
Janitors.
Rent of county offices.
Blank books.
Feeding prisoners.

County organization: ses of forming new county...$ 2,000 segister... 855 1,600 books..... 1,000 a rate of a little less than $1.15 on the $100, a lower rate by 5 cents than last year, and lower by 35 cents than that of 1887. But, for the sake of argument, suppose that in this calculation the estimates are too low. Assume that the rate be $1.25, the additional increase to the taxpayer who has $1000 on the tax duplicate would be but $1.40, and to the taxpayer who has $5000 but $5. Granting that the rate of taxation may run as high as $1.50 on the $100, the increase would be but $3.50 on the $1000 or $17.50 on the $5000. An examination of the records will show that a large majority of the taxpayers in the proposed county of Orange pay taxes on less than $5000. A fair average is $3000. The additional expense to which a person is subjected in going to Los Angeles for the purpose of paying his taxes, to say nothing about the anxiety, trouble and loss of time, will even exceed in actual cost what the taxation would be at the rate of $1.50 on the $100. But this rate of $1.50 or requirements.

BASES FOR A LOW RATE OF TAXATION.

A few of the essentials for a low

BASES FOR A LOW RATE OF TAXATION. A few of the essentials for a low rate of taxation: There are four items of cost to every county that vary acor cost to every county that vary according to the area and topography of the territory and the character of the people, causing a difference in the operating expenses. These items are:
First—Roads and bridges, which, in the proposed county, as is apparent to everyone, will be less numerous and expensive than the old, as there are fewer streams to cross and elevations to surmount.

Second—The extent of the territory to surmount.

Second—The extent of the territory over which the population is dispersed, making it more or less costly in the way of mileage for jurors, witnesses, indigents and criminals. In the proposed county the area is small; the population extends from a common center, and transportation expenses will evidently be less than in Los Angeles county or in any other county in the State.

will evidently be less than in according to the country or in any other country in the State.

Third—Pauperism, which is mainty a product of large commercial cliers, and the control of t whereas these officials in this section received but $328.50. For jurors and witnesses fees the territory included witnesses fees the territory included within the proposed county of Orange paid $3777.77. By very careful estimates the actual cost in the new county would be less than $2000. The summing up of these three items under the head of criminals shows a saving to the new county of $6324.82. This is one of the marked advantages of our new county, and this same calculation could be applied with almost equal force to many other items. It is certainly safe to assert that in these four particulars no other county in this State is so highly favored as the proposed county of Orange and that therefore her operating expenses will be correspondingly light compared with other counties of like valuation and population in this State.

A BROADER VIEW.

A BROADER VIEW. But let us take a broader view of this subject. The last bi-annual report of the State Controller for the thirty-eighth subject. The last bi-annual report of the State Controller for the thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth fiscal years, ending June 30, 1857 and 1858, gives the property valuation, rates of taxation and bonded indebtedness of all the counties of the State. Let us divide the counties into three classes: First, those with the smallest property valuation, ranging from a few hundred thousand to $6,000,000; second, those from $6,000,000 and upward. In the first class the average rate of taxation is $2.30 on the $100. The second class is $1.58 on the $100. Orange county would be classified in the second class, and her property valuation would be a medium between six millions, the one extreme, and twenty-four millions, the other extreme. It is safe to presume that the worst possible view of this question Orange county would not have a rate of over $1.58 on the $100, a rate of almost $1 less than that of the smaller counties of the State. The bonded indebtedness of the largest counties of the State—and they number aine—is 69-100 of one per cent. on the property valuation, of the intermediate class, or that in-which Orange counties of the State. The bord indebtedness of the largest counties of the smaller counties it would be 1 and 38-109 per cent. on the property valuation, while in the smaller counties it would be 1 and 38-109 per cent. on the property valuation of the State of California, generalizing them into three classes, that we have reason to believe that Orange county would not only have a lower rate of taxation than the smallest counties, but would have a smaller bonded indebtedness than either the largest or the smallest counties.

FURTHER REASONS.

County division insures permanency

FURTHER REASONS. County division insures permanency and increase of valuations in realty.

and increase of valuations in realty. American institutions have their most effective growth wherein home rule obtains. Indeed, it is fundamental in civic rights and individual liberty. It entered into the formation of the Constitution of the United States. On that rock the convention of 1787 almost split, and if the smaller States had not received a recognition of power beyond their population and wealth in the National Legislature, the Constitution under which we now live would never have been formed. It is a noted ex ample of the concession of rights that is due to the few over against the many in all good governments. The immense commercial interests of Los Angeles must in the future, as they have done in the past, overshadow and dominate the agricultural and horicultural interests of our own section and be to our disadvantage in many ways. While this, perhaps, ought not to be, nevertheless such is the case in similar situations throughout the country. Commercial relations must and ought always to exist between us, but the economical management of our own affairs within reasonable limits and the supervision and encouragement of mutual industries and interests within those limits can only be obtained by the proposed segregation of territory.

Give us a country organization.

Let us manage our own affairs, vote American institutions have their

GIVE US A COUNTY ORGANIZATION Let us manage our own affairs, vote be an exception to the rule.

Let us ascertain now what rate of taxation this estimate will furnish. An examination of the county records made by school districts shows that the assessments on realty in the proposed county of Orange foots up in round numbers $11,500,000. This gives a rate of a little less than $1.15 on the $100, a lower rate by $5 cents than last year, and lower by $5 cents than last year, and lower by $5 cents than last year, and lower by $5 cents than that the standard properties of the standard properties of the formation of this new county with a county seat in our own midst. penditures, and we will then, and not vith a county se with a county seat in our own midst, the management of which shall be in our own hands?

Many of the officials of Los Angeles county are beginning to recognize county division as a necessity. They say that the machinery is cumbrous and unwieldly. The rapid growth of the county and the unsystematic condition in which the official records unavoidably become are destroying a wise and an economical administration, and there arises therefrom a consequent loss of time, money, values, and every facility that accrues from good county government.

GEOGRAPHICAL AND TOPOGRAPHICAL GEOGRAPHICAL AND TOPOGRAPHICAL

Lastly, we want county division, be ause it is an integral part of American institutions. When the bill was framed for this county at Sacramento can institutions. When the bill was framed for this county at Sacramento, its lines were determined by its geographical and topographical peculiarities, showing thereby that the people here have a community of interests and purposes by virtue of these boundary lines. In the earliest stages of the history of man the germs of individual rights and State organization arcse from the natural boundaries in the peninsula of Greece, the cradle of civil liberty, wherein men, by virtue of natural surroundings and interests, were compelled to organize themselves into communities to obtain for themselves protection and force to cope with rival and furrounding nations. Such is largely the condition of the natural surroundings and the occupations of the people of the Santa Ana Valley.

And last, though not least, in the discussion of this question is to be considered the most vital of all principles, viz.: What is it that constitutes a State, a county, a community, an organization of any kind that gives strength, force and power by virtue of itself? It is not stocks, bonds, houses or lands alone; it is not solely material wealth in any shape or form that is the outgrowth of a well-directed energy, but the ability of a people to govern themselves, among whom prevail a unanimity of interests and a high ambition to promote the common weal, in health, business and morals, without detriment to others, and free from invasions of any sort by others.

E. E. EDWARDS.

probably aim to bond the new county, etc. I am a rancher, engaged in horticulture, raising mostly oranges and lemons. Radiating from Tustin in all directions are many engaged in the same industry. For years we have been trying to extirpate the enemies of our fruits, the black scale, and, more lately, the red scale, and now stand in mortal fear of the white scale. To succeed we must have conversion mortal fear of the white scale. To succeed we must have cooperation, uniformity of action. If I spray my orchard, and my neighbor refuses because no law compels him, his trees become a harbor for enemies of mine. I am powerless; I have no law on my side; the County Commissioners have refused to protect me in my chosen industry—an industry notably peculiar to Los Angeles county.

notably peculiar to Los Angeles county.

For years we have tried to have this county, or portions of it, divided into fruit precincts, with an inspector in each, with power to protect those who were trying to protect themselves, but all in vain. The political and economic linfluences of this large county are centered in the city of Los Angeles.

Our fruit interests down here are ignored and unappreciated by the city. For proof of this, ride through the suburbs on allisides of the county seat; behold the flag of distress, waving at half-mast from the walnut and orange orchards, trees dying or dead, but the scale white and ever living.

Now, Mr. "S. P. B.," give us Orange county, and "the possible advantage" to us will be county laws and regulations which have been refused to us, whereby we may be encouraged to plant new orchards, knowing that the

to us will be county laws and regulations which have been refused to us, whereby we may be encouraged to plant new orchards, knowing that the capital we invest and the labor we perform will return to us with many sheaves if we faint not.

This is a crisis year with the Santa Ana Valley. The death of our vineyards has entailed a fearful loss. A thousand acres of good orange land are now vacant. Were it known today that Orange county would be an entity in the near future, this once fruitful vineland would be transmitted into golden joy.

Inty in the near future, this once fruitful vineland would be transmitted into golden joy.

We have a spray that will kill the black and red scale; the white scale is a stranger as yet. The Orange County Commissioners will compel us all to clean our trees and protect us from the white scale by a rigid quarantine on our northern border.

I have mentioned but one "possible advantage" to us, and propose at this time to notice no other. But is it not an equal advantage to Los Angeles city? Is not the prosperity of this valley her prosperity? County lines are imaginary; they are not walls of seclusion; they may so encourage horticulture, that where one tree grew two may bear fruit. Will not this double yield be an advantage to Los Angeles—a city already famous, not for horticulture, but for homes.

THE NEW PENSION POLICY.

Corporal Tanner, the Commissione of Pensions, has rendered an important decision to the effect that it was not the intention of Congress in using the words "total disability" to debar claimants for pensions from the bene fits of the act until the hand, foot arm, or leg is a worthless incum brance, incapable of motion and com pletely useless for any purposes what Hereafter, he says, total disability shall be held to exist when the affected member; by reason of wound injury or disease, is useless in the performance of ordinary manual labor.

There are plain indications that the policy of the Pension Bureau, under this Administration, will differ widely from that under its predecessor. The two will follow opposite rules of construction and procedure in passing upon the claims of applicants. For the last four years, if there was a doubt, it was construed to the preju dice of the petitioner. For the next four, the presumption will be that the applicant is dealing in good faith me frauds may find a way to succes under this more liberal policy, but the gain will be greater than the loss should the practice of bringing private pension bills before Congress be discarded.

ARIZONA POLITICS.

The political situation in Arizona is decidedly strained, to put it mildly The political clique, of which the Tuc son Citizen is the organ, having suc ceeded in getting Lewis Wolfley ap pointed Governor, are now trying to follow up their success by securing the reappointment of Royal A. Johnson as Surveyor-General of the Territory. Johnson was very sharply chided by Land Commissioner Sparks for dallying with the claim of that arch fakir Reavis, of Peralta grant fame, and was peremptorily ordered to cease consideration of the claim. It is no wonder that respectable citizen of Arizona, regardless of party, look with dismay upon the possible appointment of a Surveyor-General who has, to say the least, temporized with a speculator who wishes to grab one-third of the Territory under a fraudulent claim. Meantime, Gov. Wolfley has been writing cards to a Phoenix paper, excusing himself for advising people in favor of Johnson.

Taken altogether, the experiment of home rule, as far as Arizona is concerned, has not, so far, proved very ncouraging.

THE CENSUS.

Although the reports of the tenth ensus were but recently finished and put in print, preparations are already the eleventh census which will be taken next year. Mr. Robert R. Porter having been appointed Superintendent an army of nen will shortly be moving over the men will shortly be moving over the entire country, gathering statistics.

After everything is in running order there will be about 40,000 enumerators through the country. There were 30,000 of these 10 years ago. Over those 40,000 enumerators there will be 175 supervisors; there were 180 10 years ago. Congress has appropriated for the work $6,400,000, which is to cover the entire census. Only $8,000,000 were appropriated 10 years ago, but since then liberal means have been voted by Congress to continue and complete the work, the original $3,000,000 being found entirely inadequate.

There were employed in the main office here 10 years ago, 1,400 clerks. It is thought that somewhere about the same number will that somewhere about the same hut they be needed for the work to come, but they will not be employed so long at the task, because of the fact that much less is to be attempted. Ten years ago when the census was taken, dats was taken on some 50 different subjects, but the magnitude of the work caused the projectors to abandon the compilation of statistics of over half the subjects, and, as it was, the last of the volumes was but recently issued from the Governer ames was but recently issued from the Government Printing Office.

ORANGE COUNTY.

With the purpose of giving the adinevitable gambling question. Hith- fair hearing, The Times prints today (in compliance with a promise pre viously made) an elaborate letter from Representative Edwards of Santa Ana, in which he discusses the whole subject of division, gives tables show ing the estimated expense of governing the proposed new county, the estimated revenues, the probable rate of taxation, etc., and enumerates the various advantages claimed for the nev political organization.

This letter appeared in a small por tion of yesterday's edition, and is printed in the entire edition of today. same side of the question are also pre-sented. A Tustin fruit-grower's views on the

THERE seems every reason to be-lieve that, thanks to the recently discovered parasite, the white cottony cushion scale will soon become a thing of the past. In this connection it is interesting to remember that in 1842 a scale insect appeared in the orange trees of Florida, which almost totally destroyed every tree attacked, confor ten or twelve years, after which the insect began to decrease in numbers and finally disappeared.

THE centennial just passed has fully demonstrated that the spirit of patriotism is an active principle in the hearts of the American people. THE SOCIAL EVIL.

A Strange State of Affairs-Gambling.

The order of the Police Commissionmeda, New High and Buena Vista streets, went into effect yesterday, and last night every window and door on the row was closed, and the houses were darkened. Not a place was open, except two houses in a blind alley in Chinatown, which are 20 feet from the larger houses that are set back 20 feet from the sidewalk, and these will also be closed. Chief Burns says that he means business, and that there will be no let up. He says that the law must be carried out, and he will put enough officers on duty to see that it is done. The warfare on the "macs," he says, will also be pushed until they are driven out of the city.

A TIMES reporter was told a story yesterday that will probably be investigated by the Grand Jury at its present session. It is said that when Chief Burns tackled the tan games, he sent for the leading men and had a plain talk with them. He said, in substance, that he would raid them plain taik with them. He said, in substance, that he would raid them, and that each game would have to pay $120 a month into the city treasury in the shape of fines. The Chinamen kicked on this, saying that it was too much, when the Chief told them plainly that he knew that they were paying the constables $30 a week, and nuch, when the Unital plainly that he knew that they were plainly that he knew that they were paying the constables $30 a week, and he proposed that the money should go where it belonged, to the city. The Chinamen did not deaved this hour said that they would prefer to have the city get the money, and agreed to pay it in the shape of fines. Several raids were made on this basis, when the constables stepped in and commenced raiding on their own hook. The police then stopped, and the commissioners, at their meeting Friday last, in executive session, were informed of the state of affairs prevailing. It is said that there was some talk about trying to effect a compromise, but this was abandoned, and the commissioners resolved to shout down on everything. in the b as the world has seldom witnessed, for a few minutes after the wind went down, two heavily has after the wind went down, two heavily has a few than ugly looking black flag flying, and in a very few minutes they were alongside. With a whoop that could be heard several miles, the sailors boarded the yacht and in a determined tone of voice announced that they had come to take possession. The Captain wanted to show fight, but he saw that he was overpowered, and gave up without a struggle. He was not exactly placed in irons, but the victors announced that he was to consider himself a prisoner of war, as long know.

Yesterday morning Capt. Hervey came to this city and visited the District Attorney's office, when he poured his troubles into the willing ears of Mr. Kelley. Complaints were drawn up, charging two sailors named Schroder and Hobbs with highway robbery, but up to a late hour yesterday the complaints had not been sworn to, and the chances are that they will not be, for the Captain employed special counsel, and it is believed that the matter can be settled in the civil courts.

the matter can be settled in the civil courts.

The bold, bad sailors explain their acts by saying that Hobbs has an interest in the yacht, and he did not want any one to take it away.

He has had charge of it for a year past, and claims to have some further interest in the boat. When he saw Capt. Harvey making off with it without saying a word to him, he called on his friend Schroder, and the two took possession of it as above related. They did not think they were doing any wrong, and are perfectly willing to stand trial. It is a very peculiar case, and has created a good deal of excitement in seafaring circles, and if it ever gets into the criminal courts, the chances are that sensational developments will follow.

Police Inspection The police inspection yesterday norning at 11 o'clock was witnessed by morning at 11 o'clock was witnessed by a large crowd, and passed off very creditably. Mayor Hazard and Commissioners Lindley and Dexter were on hand, as were also Councilmen Frankenfield, Shafer, Brown, McLain, Hamilton and Winsching. There were 96 men in line, and, after they had marched past in review before the commissioners, the mounted officers and patrol wagon were put through their paces. Sergt. Fletcher was in command, with Sergt. Cox as assistant. After the review, the men were photographed. The commissioners and Councilmen were then shown through the City Prison, and inspected the receiving hospital, which consists of a rickety cot. It is probable that the result of this inspection will be a movement in the Council Monday for the improvement of certain internal arrangements of the jail.

The Mayor's Office.

Mayor Hazard will move from his present quarters in the Bryson block this morning to his old office in the Downey block at the corner of Temple and Spring streets. The change is made purely as a matter of economy, as the rent of the present office is $80, which Mr. Hazard thinks is too much, and which amount will be saved to the city.

Planters to Be Sustained by Manufacturers.

Extensive Strikes Threatened in the Coal Region.

Stockmen Organize to Avoid Paying Big Commissions.

Several Victims of the Hamilton Disaster Still Unidentified-Ben Butler's Admirers Tender Him a Banquet.

By Telegraph to The Times
AUGUSTA (Ga.), May 1.—[By the Asso ciated Press.] The Southern Manufactur-ers' Association met here today to consider the condition of cotton manufacturing in the South, discuss the advisability of a permanent organization and whether cotton bagging could be substituted for jute bag-ging. President Hickman made a vigorous address on the state of the traffic, in the ourse of which he said:

"We should control the markets of South America and Mexico, and to accomplish this end we should work and invoke Gov-ernment aid. Our flag should float over every bale of goods which leaves our ports. The British Goyernment aid. Our flag should float over every bale of goods which leaves our ports. The British Government, taking advantage of the supposed trouble between China and our Government, with the hope of prejudicing that country against our goods, has passed a law requiring every piece of goods manufactured in this country and passing through England to China to be branded, 'Manufactured in the United States of America.' We would like to have our own goods reach China without passing through England and without the use of English bottoms. Give us American ships. Let China see the American flag. If our Government would lend a helping hand in placing our products in foreign lasds, it would not be long before you would see 'Manufactured in the United States of America' on goods made in Manchester, England.'

Resolutions were adoptedto memorialize Congress to grant subsidies to steamships running to Central and South America, also pledging the southern manufacturers to pay 10 cents per 100 pounds more for cotton baled in cotton or other light bagging than in jute bagging.

The impression seems to prevail that the baling of the cotton crop in cotton bagging is rot altogether practicable, but the spirit of the manufacturers is to do all in their power to aid the planters.

He was identified as a man named Baker, who had taken charge of police headquarters a few days ago in a similarly informal way.

A NOVEL POINT. Important Ruling Made in a Patent

WASHINGTON, May 1.- [By the Associated Press.] Commissioner Mitchell of the Patent Office today rendered an important decision in the interference case of Daniels vs. Morgan, which involves the question of the right of a patent commissioner to grant a motion for a rehearing of a case finally disposed of by his predecessor, excepting in cases of fraud, errors in computation discovery of new evidence. Commissioner Hall awarded priority of invention to Morgan, and four days later, on motion for a rehearing, set the hearing for April 10th. At that time it was fully understood by him that his successor was to take charge of the office April 1st. On April 10th the motion came up for hearing before Commissioner Mitchell, and counsel for Morgan asked that it be dismissed, as it asked for a rehearing of a decision of the former Commissioner upon the same facts and evidence upon which the decision was based. The matter was argued at length and taken under consideration.

Commissioner Mitchell now ruies that the duties of the Commissioner are in part of an administrative and in part of a judicial Commissioner Hall awarded priority of in-commissioner Mitchell now rules that the duties of the Commissioner are in part of an administrative and in part of a judicial nature, and while the rule limiting the right of an administration officer to review his predecessor's decisions may be applicable to him in an administrative capacity, it is equally clear that it is not binding upon him in the discharge of his judicial duties. The motion to dismiss the motion for a rehearing is therefore overruled.

Congressman Morrow Returns from Washington.

He Dispels the Bugaboo About 'Frisco's New Postoffice.

Harrison's Administration Will Benefit the Country.

An Old San Francisco Lawyer Run Over and Killed-Children Observe May Day-Other Coast News.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—[By the Associated Press.] Congressman Morrow arrived from Washington today. He stated that under the new rules of the Fiftieth that under the new rules of the Fiftieth Congress the matter of the appropriation for the San Francisco postoffice site is in abeyance for a time, but is in no wise jeopardized, and that when the site has been selected and its title approved by the Attorney-General and Postmaster-General the money will be ready to pay for it.

He thought it very probable that an extra session of Congress will be called in October on account of the amount of preliminary work to be done before Congress can

THE ARSON CASE.

Levine Trying to Make a Defense to the Charge. Robert Levine, on trial charged with setting fire to his saloon under the New United States Hotel, in January last, turned up bright and smiling in Judge McKinley's court yesterday morning His long nose and retreating forehea were displayed with confidence, and he canned the jury with complacence.

Henry Reinnan gave the defendant a good character, stating that he had never heard him spoken about harshly Peter W. Mullen corroborated Mr Reinnan's testimony.

G. W. Anderson saw the defendant the night of the fire between 11 and 11:30 o'clock at a wienerwurst stand, corner of First and Main streets. The fire took place about an hour afterwards.

fire took place about an hour afterwards.
Charles Ryan testified that he was in Levine's saloon the night of the fire from 6 to 10 o'clock. He did not smell any coal oil in the saloon, or see anything suspicious. The defendant was behind the bar during the evening the entire time, as far as he saw.

M. Ellis, Julius Phillips and Samuel Meyer were introduced to give Levine a good character, which they did.

The defendant went on the stand in his own behalf. He said that he had been arrested once in Portland, Or., for opening a dispatch by mistake. He denied that he set fire to his saloon or procured any one to do it. On the night of the fire, after he came back from supper at 7 o'clock, he found 14 to 18 people in the saloon. Most of them remained until 10:30. At about 10:50 o'clock he made arrangements to lock up. At 11 o'clock two men came in and got drinks. After this he closed up and went down the Streets. At the wienerwurst stand he met Anderson. After crossing the street he met Officer Bowler and invited him to derson. After crossing the street he met Officer Bowler and invited him to take a drink, which the officer accepted. Then he took the car and went home. A messenger boy notified him that the saloon was on fire. When he got there he could not get in as he got there he could not get in, as there was a plank across the door. De-tective McCarthy told defendant he must be heavily insured. He replied for $2500, but it was worth $5500. He was placed under arrest and taken to

to San Juan-by-the-Sea yesterday. On their return an accident happ which will prove very serious for the victim, a Santa Ana barber named victim, a Santa Ana barber named George Fall. Fall-was standing on the platform in a half-intoxicated condition as the train pulled in, and a deputy constable of Anaheim who stood by him gave him a little push. Fall lost his footing, and his left foot went under the wheels. Seven wheels passed over it before the train could be stopped, and the foot was entirely severed at the ankle. It is described as a dreadful sight by those who were present and ankle. It is described as a desadrul sight by those who were present and witnessed the man's agony. The injured man was taken to his home, where surgical aid was rendered as soom as possible. He is a member of the firm of Fall & Knauf, doing business at 109 Fourth street, Santa Ana.

Yesterday afternoon George M. Pock was brought before Justice Lockwood on a complaint charging him with obtaining property under false pretenses. The court held him under a bond of $500, which he did not give during the day, and went to jail. It is alleged that Pock bought a stock of liquors from a San Francisco house; that they were shipped to him at Los Angeles; where he has been having them reshipped to Oklahoma. The claim is that he is attempting to swindle the house and not pay for the goods. He will be brought out this morning on a writ of habeas corpus, and an attempt be made to set him at liberty. taining property under false pretenses.

100 people, assembled yesterday aftermoon at Lincoln Park to celebrate the inaugural anniversary. A good social time was spent in handshaking, and an time was spent in handshaking, and an exchange of conversation of the good old times spent among the coal and iron industries of the Keystone State, which, too, was represented at Washington's inaugural ceremonies. Addresses were made by Judge Galbraith of Los Angeles and Rev. James Kelso of this city. A big dinner was also served, to which young and old did ample justice. Singing, too, was a special feature, "Nearer, My God, to Thee, and "America" being rendered by the whole concourse. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, W. H. Kelse; treasurer, John Permar, and secretary, Thomas Conway.

Three attractions have been booked for the Grand Opera-house during the next seven days. On Saturday afternoon a farewell matinee performance of the Triamph of Love will take place. On Monday lovers of minstrelsy will be given a treat, and on the following evening the Bunch of Keys will be the attraction.

***MAR THE RESERVOIRS.**

About 130 of the followers of the Good Templar belief in this city took a trip yesterday among the reservoirs and shady retreats in the vicinity of the Devil's Gate, where they spent a most enjoyable time. A grand basket party could be seen alighting, at 10 o'clock, from the Altadena cars, and a merry group they were. The day was spent in wandering through the caffon and in partaking of a magnificent spread laid out before the eye on snowywhite cloths on mother earth. At 4 o'clock half of the company indulged in social games in a shaded spot around the depot platform. Three-legged races and social games of enchre entertained the cold-water advocates. The society returned home by train in the evening, completely tired out; but satisfied they had-spent a very enjoyable day.

Three-fourths of our people are troubled with dyspepsia or liver complaint in some form or other, which by nature of the disease has a depressing influence on the mind or body, preventing them from thinking or acting clearly in any matter of importance. Indigestion, coming up of food after eating, dyspepsia, sick headache, acidity of the stomach or any derangement of the stomach or or up derangement of the stomach or or up derangement of the stomach or of viver (upon which the whole action of our system depends) are speedily and effectually overcome by the use of Green's August Flower. The most stubborn cases have yielded to its influence, as thousands of letters received will testify. The immense sale of this medicine is another guarantee of its merits (over a million and a haif bottles soid last year). So we ask, will it bay you to suffer from any of the above diseases when you can have immediate relief in the adugust Flower? Three doses will prove its worth. It is sold by all druggists and general dealers in the world.

DAILY REMINDER OF NOTABLE EVENTS IN THE PAST.

Napoleon at Lutzen-Fall of Dresden--Chancellorsville-The Island of 'Jamaica-Hester Lynch Saulsbury Piozzi-Charles Sam-

On May 2, 1813, Napoleon's army was concentrated in the vicinity of Lutzen, the spot where, in 1632, Gustavus Adolphus had purchased victory with his life. At 2 in the morning

NAPOLEON SET OUT FROM LUTZEN, leaving Ney in a group of villages which were to serve as a basis of operations. A French force attacked and captured Leipsic just as Napoleon arrived. Meanwhile, the allies commenced to cannonade upon the villages occupied by Ney. They possessed an immense advantage in the splendid cavalry force at their service, while the cavalry force at their service, while the Russian campaign had destroyed the cavalry arm upon which Napoleon had so much depended. The villages occupied by the troops of Ney were successively taken and retaken by the struggling armies. When the Prussians had been once more driven back, Blucher, though wounded in the arm, dashed forward, and once more the French were driven back. The carnage spread over the plain for the space of six miles. Blucher begged the Czar and the King of Prussia to make a grand movement upon the center, when he perceived that the French, rallied by Napoleon, had compelled the Russians to retire. At length Blucher, reinforced, made an pelled the Russians to retire. At length Blucher, reinforced, made an attack before which the exhausted troops of Ney gave way. The timely arrival of the French reserve, followed by a heavy cannonade, decided the day. The allies would not bring forward their reserves, and as their ammunitheir reserves, and as their ammuni-tion began to fail, the Russians and Prussians retreated, leaving the French in possession of the field. Dresden fell into the hands of Napoleon, who thus succeeded in delaying a defeat which he could not ever: he could not avert. CHANCELLORSVILLE.

On May 2, 1863, Gen. Joseph Hooker received at Chancellorsville a defeat as evere as that of Burnside at Fredersevere as that of Burnside at Frederleksburg the previous December. Early in April he had determined to hold an entrenched position at Chaucellorsville, midway between Richmond and Lee's, camp at Fredericksburg. Leaving Sedgwick in front of Lee's camp, Hooker advanced with 36,000 men, and had reached Chancellorsville before Lee perceived his danger; but, instead of retreating toward Richmond, as Hooker had expected, the Confederate commander made a vigorous attack. Conmentrating his forces. Lee moved forhad expected, the Confederate commander made a vigorous attack. Concentrating his forces, Lee moved forward on the morning of May 2d, leaving Gen. Early to guard his camp with 9000 men and 30 cannon. Gen. Stonewall Jackson and Gen. Slocum, in command of one of Hooker's divisions, maintained a desperate conflict throughout the morning without decisive results. At length Lee yielded to Jackson's advice for a flank movement, and the latter, with 25,000 men, made a détour through the woeds under cover of Stuart's cavairy and fell furiously on Hooker's rear. The Federal from were quickly routed. Hooker only succeeding in checking somewhat the Confederate pursuit. Fortunately for the Federal cause, while Jackson and his staff were making a reconnoissance in the evening they were mistaken by the sentinels for Federal cavalry and fired upon, when Jackson fell, mortally hurt. This accident delayed the movement by which Hooker would have been crushed, and before Lee could make his contemplated attack a violent rainstorm occurred, under cover of which Hooker retreated to his former position in front of Fredericksburg. This was rendered the more necessary as the force under Sedgwick in attacking Lee's camp had lost 1000 men, and in joining Hooker after the defeat of Early was routed by McLaws and forced to retreat across the river to Hooker's first position.

She was born in the year 1739, and being early introduced into London society became a universal favorite, and in 1763 married Henry Thrale, a wealthy brewer. Her acquaintance with Dr. Johnson, which speedily became an intimacy of the closest and most affectionate kind, began shortly after. Of all Dr. Johnson's many friendships this was to him the most valuable of all. Mrs. Thrale's married life was not eminently a happy one, her husband, though pleasant and kindly, being no miracle of conjugal virtue. If Johnson owed her much, it may be said that the benefit was in some respects reciprocal. After Thrale's death in 1781, Mrs. Thrale retired with her four daughters to Bath, where, in 1784, she married Gabriel Piczzi, an Italian music teacher, to the great disgust of her many friends and Dr. Johnson in particular. Having survived her first husband and her own celebrity, Mrs. Piczzi died at her home near Bristol, May 2, 1821.

In 1856 he made a two-days' speech on "The Crime Against Kansas," some of which was a bitter personal attack, in consequence of which he was assaulted in the Senate chamber, and severely beaten by Preston C. Brooks of South Carolina. Sumner was so injured by the caning that his labors were suspended for three or four years, during which he visited Europe, returning only in time to take part in the Presidential election of 1860.
